

Eurail Media Kit Update 2009 / 2010

Eurail's product range 2010

2009 was a significant year for Eurail, marking its 50th anniversary of the Eurail Passes. Since Eurail's introduction in 1959, the range has been improved and expanded dramatically, resulting in today's wide range of flexible passes. Product development remains a priority for Eurail. Consequently further countries and passes have been added to the product range, giving customers even more choice and freedom to explore Europe. Below is a summary of the Eurail Pass product range:

Welcome to the Eurail Group Media Library!
The Eurail Group G.I.E. has put together this photo database in order to support its General Sales Agents, members of the media and strategic marketing partners in promoting the Eurail and Interrail brand.

These photographs are available for use, free of charge, provided they are used in material directly publicising Eurail or Interrail and its products.

In this database, you will find a variety of photographs illustrating trains, stations, people and places relevant to Europe and rail. These pictures have been categorised and linked to specific key words in order to facilitate finding the right image. Where possible, a short description is provided giving information about each specific image.

This library will be periodically updated, so please keep checking for new photographs.

As an authorised user you can access all photographs. Those with the appropriate rights are able to immediately download images for use. If you do not have the rights to do this, please contact the Eurail Group Marketing Department at pressinfo@eurail.nl.

If you have any questions, comments or suggestions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Best regards,
Eurail Group G.I.E.
